SCHEDULE B

USE AND INTERPRETATION OF THE NUMBERING SYSTEM OF THE CANADIAN ELECTRICAL CODE, PART I

The following is quoted from the Code:

The Code is divided into numbered sections, each covering some main division of the work. The sections are divided into numbered rules with captions for easy reference.

(a) Numbering System - even numbers have been used throughout to identify sections and rules. Rule numbers consist of the section number separated by a hyphen from the 3 or 4-digit figure. The intention in general is that odd numbers may be used for new rules required by interim revisions. Due to the introduction of some new rules and the revocation of some existing rules during the revision of each edition, the rule numbers for any particular requirement are not always the same in successive editions;

(b) Subdivision of Rules - Rules are subdivided in the manner illustrated by Rules 8-204 and 8-206 and the subdivisions are identified as follows:

00-000	Rule
(1)	Subrule
Paragraph	(a)
Subparagraph	(i)
Clause	(A)

(c) REFERENCE TO OTHER RULES, ETC. Where reference is made to two or more rules, the first and last rules mentioned are included in the reference. References within a subrule to other subrules mean the subrules of that rule. References to a subrule of another rule are, for convenience, expressed by the rule number followed by the subrule number in parentheses (e.g. “Rule 10-200(3)” and “Subrule (3) of Rule 10-200”).

SECTION 2 adopts the Twentieth Edition of the Code authorized under section 5 of the Act for the purposes of section 2 of the Act.
